Robert Mapplethorpe. Quite the same Wikipedia. Just better. Robert Mapplethorpe. From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia. Robert Mapplethorpe. Self-Portrait, 1980. Born. Mapplethorpe championed erotic black and white photography of fetish and leather gay imagery, along with flowers, children, and celebrities portraits. It's not different from one subject to the next. I am trying to capture what could be sculpture." Summary of Robert Mapplethorpe. There are few photographers who have sparked national debate around artistic freedom and eroticism as profoundly as Robert Mapplethorpe. Robert Mapplethorpe was born in 1946 in Queens, New York. One of six children, he was brought up in a strict Catholic environment. When he was sixteen he enrolled at the Pratt Institute in Brooklyn, where he studied drawing, painting, and sculpture. From Polaroid to professional. Early in his career Robert Mapplethorpe was influenced by a range of artists including assemblage artist Joseph Cornell and dada artist Marcel Duchamp. He experimented with mixed media collages, using images cut from books and magazines.
